INVIGORATING CORDIAL.—PROFESSOR MORSE'S Invigorating Elixir or Cordial—The Eighth Wonder of the Betanic World.

CURR OF RERVOUS DIERARS.

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the diseased, debilitated and shattered nervous system. Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness. the unstrung and relaxed erganization is ab once rebraced, revirified, and built up. The mental and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. The stooping, teembling rickin of depression and debility, becomes a new man. He stands creek; he moreowith a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright, buoyant and active; and he goes forth refrashed, regenerated, and consolous of new vigor, to his accusioned occupations. Nor the certical properties of the medicina reach the constitution itself, and resters it to its mormal condition. Well may the proparation be salled the STRUMAL WONDER first sciontific mon in the old world have admitted, that miracle of medicine herefore rappessed to have an existence.

A STRUMLARY THAT ENTALLS NO REACTION.

Its force is never expensed, as is the case with opium, alcoholic preparations, and all other arcitants. The effect of these is brief, and it may well be said of him who takes shoun, "the last state of that man is were than the first." But the Elixir is an exhibitant without a single drawback—ase in its operation, perpetual in its happy influence upon the nerves, he mind, and the entire organization.

The unparalleled effects of this great restorative in all complaints incident to famile mark a new era in the annalis of medicine. Thousands of stimulate have been invocated—thousands of invigorants consected—all purporting to be apposited in the various diseases and deraugements to which the mind and th
